

109 Harrison Street – Contributing

Located at 109 N. Harrison Street is a two-story, frame, rectangular American Foursquare dwelling built ca. 1910. The house has a continuous stucco foundation, a hipped roof of asphalt shingles, an interior brick flue and an exterior of vinyl siding. On the main (W) façade is a hipped roof, full-width porch enclosed ca. 1980 with vinyl siding, wood stairs, a concrete block foundation and wrought iron handrails. The main entrance is a ca. 1990, single-light and two-panel metal door with single-light glass and wood sidelights. On the north facade is a secondary entrance with a recessed, ca. 1990, nine-light and two-panel metal door. Windows throughout the dwelling are ca. 1985, one-over-one double hung vinyl sash. At the roofline on the south façade is a hipped roof dormer with four-light fixed wood windows and on the main façade is a hipped roof dormer with a replaced hexagonal-shaped, single-light fixed window. Also on the south façade are fifteen-light French doors.

Off the northeast corner of the dwelling is a single-bay garage with front gable roof of asphalt shingles, an exterior of weatherboard siding, and an original, two-light and horizontal panel metal overhead track door. Contributing

115 Harrison Street – Contributing

ARC 02-08 – exterior modifications (preliminary review only)

At 115 N. Harrison Street is a two-story, rectangular American Foursquare plan dwelling built ca. 1910. The dwelling has a continuous rusticated concrete foundation, a hipped roof of asphalt shingles and an exterior of weatherboard siding. On the main (W) façade is an original, full-width, hipped roof porch with square wood columns, a closed weatherboard railing and a wood floor on concrete block piers. The main entrance retains its original, single-light glass and wood panel door with an aluminum storm door. Flanking the main entrance on the north is a single-light fixed window with a wood surround. On the north façade is a secondary entrance with a recessed, single-light and four-wood panel door. Some of the original, two-light glass and wood awning basement windows remain. On the main façade roofline is a triangular dormer with an original three-light glass and wood awning window with a wood surround and weatherboard siding.

121 Harrison Street – Contributing

Located at 121 N. Harrison Street is a two-story, gable front Folk dwelling currently used for commercial purposes and constructed ca. 1910. The house has a front gable roof of asphalt shingles, a continuous rusticated concrete block foundation and an exterior of vinyl siding. On the main (N) façade is a shed roof porch with a projecting gable over the stairs. The porch has wood stairs and floor, wrought iron rails and brackets and tapered wood columns. The main entrance has a single light glass and wood door. Windows are one-over-one double hung vinyl sash. On the rear façade is a shed roof wing with an exterior of vinyl siding and a large exterior end brick chimney. In the gable fields are square louvered vents.

To the rear of the dwelling is an original, single-bay garage with a ca. 1985, hipped roof of asphalt shingles, an exterior of vinyl siding and a ca. 1960, horizontal metal overhead track door. Noncontributing

125 Harrison Street – Contributing

At this location is a one-and-one-half story side-gabled Folk dwelling built ca. 1915 and extensively remodeled ca. 1990 for use as a commercial building. The building has a continuous stucco foundation, a roof of asphalt shingles and an exterior of vinyl siding. On the main façade is a ca. 1990, two-light and metal panel door with a closed pediment and a vinyl surround. Windows are three-over-one vertical-light with vinyl surrounds some with vinyl sash and some with original wood sash. At the roofline is an original, gable roof dormer with a triple set of three-over-one vertical-light vinyl windows.

To the rear of the building is a hipped roof garage with original, three-over-one vertical-light double hung wood sash windows, a hollow core wood pedestrian door on the west facade and a ca. 1980, twenty-panel metal overhead track door on the north facade. Noncontributing

131 Harrison Street - Contributing

Located at 131 N. Harrison Street is a two-story, gabled ell Folk dwelling built ca. 1915. The house has a continuous concrete block foundation, a hipped roof of asphalt shingles, an exterior end brick chimney and an exterior of weatherboard siding. On the main (W) façade is a central entry porch with a Mansard roof supported by Tuscan columns, a wood baluster railing and a wood floor on brick piers. The main entrance retains its original, six-panel wood door with an aluminum storm door and original, eight-light glass and wood panel sidelights. The upper façade has a central entry with an original, fifteen-light glass and wood door with a nine-light glass and wood exterior door and an aluminum and glass storm door. On the main façade are original picture windows on either side of the entry with an eight-over-one double hung wood sash window flanked by six-over-one double hung wood sash windows. At the roofline on the main façade is a hipped roof dormer with a triple set of four-light fixed windows and an exterior of weatherboard siding. On the south façade is an original gable roof lateral wing with a hipped roof wall dormer with a pair of eight-over-one double hung wood sash window with wood surrounds. The south façade has two entries, one with a ca. 1980, six-panel metal door and one with an original, single-light glass and wood panel door with an aluminum storm door. In the gable fields are fixed louvered vents.

The right (north) side of the “ell” is actually a different address: 231 Applebee. This separate north entry has a gable roof entry porch supported by square wood columns, a wood baluster railing and a wood floor. The entrance retains its original, six-panel wood door with a wood cornice surround.

Behind and to the left of the structure is an original, single-bay garage with a hipped roof of asphalt shingles, a six-wood panel pedestrian door, hinged double wood doors, exposed roof rafters and original, six-light fixed wood windows with wood surrounds.

Contributing