

521 S. Hough Street – Contributing

Located at 521 S. Hough Street is a two-story gabled ell Folk Victorian (Queen Anne influence) dwelling built ca. 1890. The house has a hip and gable roof of asphalt shingles, a continuous brick foundation, an interior brick chimney and an exterior of weatherboard siding. On the main (W) façade is an original shed roof porch with milled columns, wood brackets and open wood pattern railing. The main entrance retains its original wood panel door with an original single-light, rectangular transom. Adjacent to the main entrance is a single-light, fixed, rectangular window with a wood surround. Windows are original, one-over-one double hung wood sash with wood surrounds. The windows on the first floor of the main façade have single-light fixed picture windows with stained glass transoms. In the gable fields are sawtooth and octagonal shingles. On the south façade is a two-story chamfered bay with three, original windows on each floor. At the roofline is a gable dormer with a triangular sunburst-sectioned attic window. At the rear is a shed roof porch with milled columns. On the north façade is a two-story bay with chamfered corners on the first floor.

Located to the rear of the dwelling is a ca. 1990, single-story, frame garage with a clipped gable roof of asphalt shingles, weatherboard siding and vertical board hinged double doors.
